Love at First Bite (prologue/ch.1)

Love at first bite

Prologue

What is love? Is it passion? Is it sex? Is it mental or physical? Or maybe even both? So many questions, yet to everyone it's different. It seemed love was never going to come for me. I was never one to believe in love at first sight. I never believed someone out there was made just for me. It seemed so unrealistic. Yeah, I read all the sappy teen romance books, but to me those were just an escape from the real world. Sure, I fantasized about having someone as dreamy as Edward Cullen love me unconditionally and forever, but let's face it vampires don't exist. No vampire would pick me, Calista Williams, a normal Florida teenager, to love forever.

Chapter one

*BEEP BEEP BEEP*I sighed, another night of peaceful seep interrupted by my obnoxious alarm clock. I am not a morning person. I'm also a deep sleeper my alarm clock is a high pitched beeping noise. After a good five minutes of trying to turn off my alarm clock, I slowly got up and blindly stumbled to my bathroom. I turned the faucet on and splashed cold water on my face. I stared into the mirror and studied myself. My dirty blond hair was tangled and going everywhere. My steel blue eyes were still the only peculiar thing about me. They had a gold ring around he pupil, and they sometimes changed a green-blue color. I was still 5'6 and had a normal body. My skin wasn't pale, but I was not tan either. I was still the normal me. I brushed my hair and put it in a messy bun. I then walked into my room to get changed. I decided on a teal shirt that made my eyes pop and a normal pair of jeans. I put on some brown flip flops. I then put some brown eyeliner on and some gold eye shadow, and walked to the kitchen to get some breakfast.

My little brother, Nicolass (Nic), and sister, Nyssa (Nys), were already out there eating their cereal. They are twins. They both have dirty blond hair and steel blue eyes. Today was the first day of school. Nic and Nys are going to eighth grade, and I am going to eleventh. I quickly finished my cereal and ran outside to wait for my best friends, Aleka, Danika, and Devika, to pick me up. Aleka has dark brown eyes, cinnamon skin, and long brown hair. Aleka is really sweet and it is really hard not to like her. Danika is petite and has green eyes; her hair is a dark red almost brown color and she is pale. She has a happy and peppy personality. Devika has black hair and gorgeous sky blue eyes, her skin is like ivory. Devika is rich, and shes also the prettiest in our little clique. I'm the plain jane and smart one. I sighed and said to myself "here goes another boring day in my boring life."
